

Grand Isle High School Gets New Basketball Goals!

Grand Isle, LA

Grand Isle High School is the home to (140) students from grades K-12. Although not many students attend this new 16' elevated school, their team pride runs deep. After years of fundraising and requesting new side court basketball goals from the school board, Hahn Enterprises installed (4) new goals with electric winches and electric height adjusters in February. The installation was completed literally (1) day before their first ever basketball playoff game...which they won!

We worked with the school to not only install the goals, but also run all the electrical needed to power the winches and height adjusters. A turn key project from start to finish.
